Sanctuary Collection is a game-changer for Princess, where guests can book a Sanctuary Collection stateroom — not only suites, but also select mini-suites and balconies — and enjoy a premium “ship-within-a-ship” experience. Sanctuary guests have exclusive access to the Sanctuary ClubSM, a top-deck poolside retreat. There's also a private restaurant reserved just for Sanctuary guests, with a dedicated waitstaff, and no reservations needed. Suite guests will also enjoy a private lounge. And to top it off, our newly enhanced Princess Premier[®] is included in the fare with unlimited drinks, unlimited specialty and casual dining, plus our new highest-performing Wi-Fi service, MedallionNet[®] Max, and much more

Starting with voyages departing Sat., Sep 14, 2024 and beyond, Princess will designate separate dining rooms aboard every ship in the fleet to three table service options:

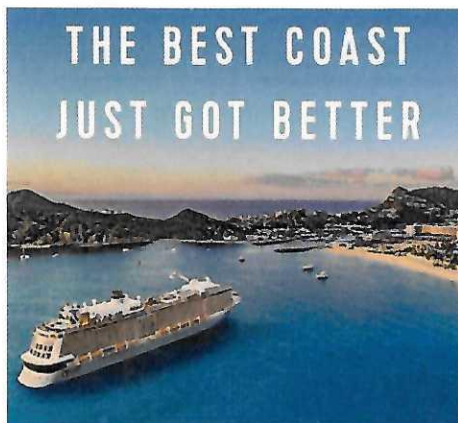

Traditional: Classic cruise experience with choice of early or late seating at same table with same waitstaff. Seating times may vary by ship and itinerary.

Flexible: Just like a restaurant, you can reserve any table size at a time that works for you in this dining room.

Walk-in: For those who want the ultimate flexibility, this dining venue let's you walk in on your own schedule.

ROYAL CARIBBEAN

Max out your clients' memories with three game-changing ships from Los Angeles, California. From chest-pounding thrills and endless ways to chill to dining adventures from ship to shore and immersive experiences with local culture — there's more in store for everyone.

Win the weekend with short escapes to Ensenada and Catalina or wander longer with overnight stays in Cabo — onboard their choice of two Quantum Class marvels Ovation of the Seas[®] and Quantum of the Seas[®] plus fan-favorite Navigator of the Seas[®]. There's no better way to Baja than with Royal Caribbean[®] — the only cruise line voted best overall 21 years running by Travel Weekly Readers.

Mummy Jalapeño Poppers

This game day favorite takes on a cute disguise for Halloween. Instead of getting the breaded-and-fried treatment, the poppers are wrapped in strips of crescent rolls to resemble mummy bandages then baked until golden brown and bubbly. Removing the seeds from the jalapeños tames a lot of the heat, but if you're craving a spicy kick, you could use pepper Jack cheese instead of cheddar Jack or add chili powder or hot sauce to the filling. These poppers can be assembled ahead of time and kept in the refrigerator. When ready to serve, just brush with beaten egg and pop them in the oven.

Ingredients:

- 4 slices bacon, chopped into 1/2-inch pieces
- 6 ounces plus 1 heaping tablespoon cream cheese, at room temperature
- 1 1/2 cups finely shredded Cheddar Jack cheese
- 2 scallions, thinly sliced
- 1 clove garlic, finely grated
- Kosher salt
- 10 medium to large jalapeños (each 3 to 4 inches long), halved lengthwise with the stem intact, seeded with a small spoon
- One 8-ounce tube refrigerated crescent rolls
- 1 large egg, beaten
- 4 to 5 black olives (such as canned or Kalamata), for decorating

A Family Guide to San Diego Zoo Safari Park

Located in the San Pasqual Valley, about 35 miles northeast of downtown San Diego, the San Diego Zoo Safari Park offers an immersive experience that is different, yet complementary, to a visit to the San Diego Zoo itself.

Spanning 1,800 acres, the San Diego Zoo Safari Park is a world leader in wildlife conservation and home to an extraordinary collection of animals and ecosystems. From exciting safari adventures to impactful conservation initiatives, here are some reasons why the park should be on every family's must-visit list.

The San Diego Zoo Safari Park offers visitors something few destinations outside of Africa can — a chance to experience a safari without leaving the United States. With its large, open habitats, the park mimics natural environments where animals roam freely, offering an authentic taste of the wild.

The signature experience, the Africa Tram Safari, transports visitors through vast savannah landscapes dotted with African wildlife. Visitors can expect to see giraffes striding across the plains, rhinos grazing in the distance and herds of zebras mingling with antelope — all without barriers or cages. The unique design of the park's enclosures allows the animals to thrive in spacious, naturalistic settings, giving visitors a sense of immersion that's rare in most zoos.

One of the unique options at the Safari Park is the Roar and Snore Safari, an overnight camping experience. Guests get to choose between a Classic or Vista tent, or a Premium tent for a more luxurious option. Campers enjoy walking tours, meals and up-close wildlife encounters.

Directions:

- 1 Preheat the oven to 400 degrees F. Line a large baking sheet with parchment.
- 2 Place the bacon in a medium skillet and set over medium heat. Cook, stirring occasionally, until browned and crisp, about 10 minutes. Remove with a slotted spoon to a paper towel-lined plate. Mix the cooked bacon with the 6 ounces cream cheese, the Cheddar Jack, scallions, garlic and 1/4 teaspoon salt in a medium bowl until well combined.
- 3 Fill each jalapeño half with the cream cheese mixture, leveling the surface with the back of a spoon or a small offset spatula so it's flush with the edges of the jalapeño.
- 4 Unroll the crescent rolls onto a cutting board. Separate into 4 rectangles at the perforations. Pinch together the diagonal perforations on each rectangle to seal the holes. Cut each rectangle lengthwise into 10 strips. Wrap each jalapeño half with 2 of the strips to resemble mummy bandages.
- 5 Arrange the wrapped jalapeños on the prepared baking sheet. Brush the tops of the strips with the beaten egg. Bake until golden brown and the filling is hot, 13 to 18 minutes.
- 6 Meanwhile, transfer the remaining heaping tablespoon cream cheese to a small resealable plastic bag and snip one of the corners. Slice off thin cheeks from all around the outside of each olive and lay the pieces flat. Punch out 40 tiny rounds using a small round piping tip (about 3/16 inch) — these will be the pupils of the eyes.
- 7 Let the mummy poppers cool slightly for a few minutes. Pipe 2 small mounds of cream cheese on the head (wider end) of each mummy and press an olive "pupil" onto each mound. Serve right away.
