U.K. Sets Dates for Launch of ETA Visa Requirement for U.S. and Canada

The U.K. government has set the deadline for when Americans and Canadians will be required to apply for and obtain an Electronic Travel Authorization (ETA) for travel to the U.K.

Starting on Jan. 8, 2025, all Americans and Canadians will need an ETA to get into the U.K., regardless of how long they are staying or their reasons for travel, including simply connecting through a U.K. airport.

All other international travelers, except for Irish nationals, will also need an ETA, including Europeans, though their deadline is later than January 2025. Those from Qatar have been required to obtain an ETA since November 2023 and others, including those from Saudi Arabia, the U.A.E., and other Middle Eastern countries, have been required since February 2024.

The application portal for Americans or Canadians with travel plans starting on Jan. 8, 2025, will open on Nov. 27, 2024.

What's the cost and process?

The ETA, which was announced last year, will cost £10 (around $13.09 USD and around $17.77 CAD). It will be valid for two years after approval.

Applicants will have to fill in their information on the U.K. government website or via the U.K. ETA app on their phone. The application requires a photograph and some personal details, including passport information.

Travelers will be able to apply on behalf of others, so one member of a family or a group will be able to secure visas for the whole traveling party.

The U.K. promises that the application process is "simple and fast" and that applicants will get a decision within three working days, but maybe sooner. If an ETA application is refused, travelers will need to apply for a visa instead.

What's the point?

The ETA is modeled after a U.S. version, called Electronic System for Travel Authorization or ESTA.

The ESTA is required for anyone boarding a plane or vessel bound for the U.S. According to Homeland Security, "in most instances, ESTA applicants will receive real-time notification on the disposition of their application to travel to the United States." The ESTA costs applicants $21 USD.

The U.K. government says that its version will not only add revenue to its tourism economy but will also help modernize its immigration system and "strengthening" its border.

Cooler weather, smaller crowds, and better deals during the off season lets you discover the world without the rest of the world! Solo travelers can take advantage of select tours without a single supplement charge (based on availability).

Let's go to the park! The national parks of North America, that is – from the pristine wilderness to patriotic pathways to the landscapes and seascapes that stretch as far as your imagination. North America holds more unexpected surprises than a good old-fashioned game of hide and seek. So get out and explore the hidden treasures and famous favorites right in your own backyard.

From epic mysteries to epic adventures, South America is closer than you think! As the crow flies, South America is comparable with flight times from North America to Europe—with less jetlag thanks to friendly time zones! Find summer in winter with the mild temperatures and sunshine you crave on a tropical getaway in South America. Warmer still, are the friendly people who call the continent home.

Perfect Pot Roast

Ingredients:

- Salt and freshly ground black pepper
- One 3- to 5-pound chuck roast
- 2 or 3 tablespoons olive oil
- 2 whole onions, peeled and halved
- 6 to 8 whole carrots, unpeeled, cut into 2-inch pieces
- 1 cup red wine, optional
- 3 cups beef broth
- 2 or 3 sprigs fresh rosemary
- 2 or 3 sprigs fresh thyme

Directions:

- 1 Preheat the oven to 275 degrees F.
- 2 Generously salt and pepper the chuck roast.
- 3 Heat the olive oil in large pot or Dutch oven over medium-high heat. Add the halved onions to the pot, browning them on both sides. Remove the onions to a plate.
- 4 Throw the carrots into the same very hot pot and toss them around a bit until slightly browned, about a minute or so. Reserve the carrots with the onions.
- 5 If needed, add a bit more olive oil to the very hot pot. Place the meat in the pot and sear it for about a minute on all sides until it is nice and brown all over. Remove the roast to a plate.
- 6 With the burner still on high, use either red wine or beef broth (about 1 cup) to deglaze the pot, scraping the bottom with a whisk. Place the roast back into the pot and add enough beef stock to cover the meat halfway.
- 7 Add in the onions and the carrots, along with the fresh herbs.
- 8 Put the lid on, then roast for 3 hours for a 3-pound roast. For a 4 to 5-pound roast, plan on 4 hours. The roast is ready when it's fall-apart tender.
