Ship Preview: MSC Cruises' MSC World Asia

MSC Cruises' World Class category of ships began with MSC World Europa and MSC World America. Next on the horizon is MSC World Asia, which is set to debut in December of 2026.

The cruise line has named each World Class vessel after a different continent "to reflect the fact that MSC Cruises sails to every corner of the globe and offers an unparalleled choice of destinations," according to the company.

Like the rest of the fleet, MSC World Asia will be powered by liquefied natural gas (LNG). It will sail the Western Mediterranean in 2026-2027 and staterooms are already on sale.

MSC World Asia will further enhance our lineup in the region, giving guests even more choice of embarkation ports and itineraries for their winter escape or summer getaways,

Reflecting its name, World Asia will exhibit subtle design details that nod to Asian cultures, art and landscapes. Structurally, it will continue the signature vertical bow and Y-shaped superstructure at the stern present on other World Class ships.

On Dec. 11, 2026, World Asia will set sail on its maiden Mediterranean route. The seven-day itinerary will take cruisers to Barcelona, Spain; Marseille, France; Valletta, Malta; and Genoa, Civitavecchia (for Rome) and Messina, Italy. These same ports will be highlighted throughout World Asia's 2026-2027 winter season, and accessible embarkation will be available in each port.

Jamaica Launches New Tourism Campaign Starring Usain Bolt

Usain Bolt

The Jamaica Tourist Board (JTB) launched a new advertising campaign featuring Usain Bolt, who was recently appointed Jamaica's Global Tourism Ambassador. The 30-second video spot debuted on Aug. 6 across digital platforms in celebration of Jamaica's Independence Day.

In the video, Bolt reflects on his roots in Trelawny and the global success that followed. "This is our Jamaica," says Bolt. "Where you can run in the sand or compete on the track. Where you can cool off in the mountains, or you can move them. That's the spirit of Jamaica—we are a small island, but we do big things here."

Usain Bolt has long been an icon of Jamaican pride and excellence," said Jamaica Minister of Tourism Edmund Bartlett. "This campaign brings his personal story and national pride into focus and shares that magic with the world." The campaign includes digital storytelling, social media activations and global event appearances. "Jamaica is bold, authentic, and full of heart," said Donovan White, JTB's director of tourism. "Usain's unmatched global appeal and deep love for Jamaica make him the perfect voice to carry our message to the world." ## Fall-Off-the-Bone Chicken

Level: Easy

Total: 6 hr 20 min (includes brining time)

Active: 20 min

Yield: 4 servings

Ingredients:

1 1/2 teaspoons packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
Kosher salt and freshly ground black pepper
8 bone-in, skin-on chicken thighs (about 3 pounds), patted completely dry
2 tablespoons chopped chives

Directions:

1. Combine the sugar, paprika, garlic powder, 1 tablespoon salt and 1/2 teaspoon black pepper in a large bowl. Toss the chicken in the spice mixture until coated. Arrange the chicken in a single layer in a flameproof 9-by-13-inch baking dish. Cover with foil and refrigerate for at least 4 hours and up to overnight.
2. Preheat the oven to 300 degrees F.
3. Bake until the chicken is super moist and falling off the bone, about 2 hours. Remove the baking dish from the oven and remove the foil. Use a spoon or ladle to remove as much liquid from the dish as possible and reserve. Turn the oven to broil.
4. Broil the chicken until the skin is golden brown and slightly crisp, about 5 minutes. Sprinkle the chicken with the chives and serve with the reserved pan juices.
