

Iceland Christmas Markets

December 3-7, 2026

Framed by snow and sometimes crowned by northern lights, Reykjavik in winter is like something from a dream. Explore Iceland's Christmas markets on this unique itinerary,

Our adventure begins with non-stop flights on Iceland Air from Newark. On arrival on Friday, December 4, our private transfer will take us to the Fosshotel, for an early morning check-in and full breakfast. That afternoon relax at the Sky lagoon, where the sea meets the sky, and that evening free to explore Reykjavik. Next day we will have a private guided walking tour of the Christmas markets in Reykjavik and Hafnarfjordur, with plenty of time to shop and experience traditional crafts and local delicacies, evening on own. On Sunday, we will have a private tour of the Golden Circle, combining natural and historical wonders. You will experience Iceland's landmark attractions in one incredible day: Gulfoss waterfall, hot springs of Geysir and Pingvellir National Park. Stop for an included lunch at the Fridheimar Greenhouse and a visit to the stables to marvel at the Icelandic horses. Monday you will have the morning to do some sightseeing or last-minute shopping, before we leave for the airport

Our package will include:

Nonstop air on Icelandair from Newark with all current taxes and fees.

All private transportation in Iceland

Four-night stay with breakfast at the centrally located Fosshotel

Afternoon excursion to the Sky Lagoon with admission

Christmas markets with private guide and walking tour

Private Golden Circle tour, lunch at Fridheimar Green house and the Icelandic horse farm

Price per person double occupancy is $1999.00 (single rates by request). A passport with six months validity is required. Optional insurance is available and highly recommended.

The People. The Place. Maui.

Maui is like nowhere else — encouraging visitors to experience the values and its unique culture of its people. From the melodic sounds of mele (Hawaiian music) to spreading aloha with fragrant lei. From the preservation and perpetuation of Native Hawaiian knowledge to using food to bring the community together. On Maui, it's not just the place — it's the people — that make the island so unique, beautiful and worth experiencing.

Did you know?

Maui's Haleakalā volcano is the largest dormant volcano in the world, standing over 10,000 feet above sea level. Its summit is a popular spot to watch the sunrise, often described as a spiritual and awe-inspiring experience.

Every winter, thousands of humpback whales migrate to the warm waters between Maui, Moloka'i, and Lāna'i. This makes Maui one of the best whale watching destinations in the world, especially between December and April.

Maui is known as the "Valley Isle" because it was formed by two volcanoes: Haleakalā in the east and Mauna Kahalawai in the west. Their eroded slopes created a fertile valley that gives the island its distinctive shape.

Taste the Real Aruba

Aruba's culinary scene blends Caribbean flavor, global flair, and island soul. From food trucks to fine dining, there's a spicy story behind every bite.

Xa On The Go: For the love of chicken, let's take this steakhouse to another level. Azar is FIRE!

With a passionate, fiery hate for another on-island chicken restaurant, Teddy and Miguel set out to create the best chicken Aruba has ever tasted. Combining Teddy's expertise and preference for Peruvian-style chicken with Miguel's Venezuelan version became a game of compromise until both were satisfied. With the perfect chicken recipe in hand, construction started on what is now Azar Open Fire Cuisine. The only issue? Teddy joked that they would need to sell about 4,000 chickens a day to

Local Cuisine in Aruba

Discover how the melting pot of cultures contributes to a menu influenced by Holland, South America, and the Caribbean.

Fascinating flavor fusions result from a combination of various types of cuisines as award-winning chefs from all over the world spin their magic, adding new dimensions to Aruba's culinary stew pot.

Aruba's home-cooked food was influenced by Amerindians, merchants, pirates, colonial powers of the Netherlands and Spain, African slaves, Eastern and Asian immigrants.
