United Airlines Relax Row Debut for 2027

United Airlines announced plans for United Relax Row, a set of United Economy seats that can transform into a couch, creating a more comfortable option for customers traveling in the United Economy cabin on long-haul flights. United is the first North American airline to offer this kind of seating option and holds North American exclusivity on the design. To our knowledge this is indeed the first U.S. carrier to introduce this kind of seating, though Air New Zealand may in fact have pioneered it on its flights.

United's new dedicated row of three seats is outfitted with individually adjustable leg rests that fold up at a 90-degree angle to create a more room to sleep, stretch out or watch a movie. The United Relax Row is ideal for families traveling with small children, solo travelers and couples who want the value of United Economy but with a little extra comfort. Customers traveling in United Relax Row will receive additional amenities for their flight including a custom-fitted mattress pad, a specially sized plush blanket, two additional pillows, as well as a plush toy and Children's Travel Kit for families.

The United Relax Row is expected to launch in 2027, and the airline plans to offer it on more than 200 Boeing 787 and 777 widebody aircraft by 2030. The seats will be located between United Economy and United Premium Plus and United will offer up to 12 United Relax Row sections on each plane.

"As a leading premium airline, we're committed to delivering new, industry-leading experiences for all of our customers—and the United Relax Row is the perfect example of that," said Andrew Nocella, United's executive vice president and chief commercial officer. Customers traveling in United Economy on long-haul flights deserve an option for more space and comfort, and this is one way we can deliver that for them. United is the only North American airline offering a product like the United Relax Row and is one of the many reasons why we're continuing to win brand loyal customers."

The United Relax Row is just the latest way United is making travel easier for families:

Free family seating: United says it is the first and only airline to offer a dynamic seat map that allows children under 12 to be seated next to an adult in their party for free at time of booking. And if needed, United will automatically move families to preferred seats to keep them seat together.

Kids' meals onboard: Children can enjoy breakfast and lunch/dinner menus on select United flights where complimentary meals are served. Parents can pre-order their children's meal selections like French toast, chicken fingers and grilled cheese, in the United app or United.com.

Family-friendly inflight entertainment: United has a curated section of inflight entertainment just for families, including favorites like Bluey, Paw Patrol, Zootopia 2, Paddington in Peru and more.

Children's Travel Kit: Created in collaboration with Sesame Street, United's Children Travel Kit offers interactive activities to make the travel experience fun for kids and stress-free for parents, including an Oscar the Grouch activity book, slide puzzle and sensory calming strip.

EUROPE

EXPLORATIONS WITH COLLETTE

WHEN CLIENTS GO GUIDED, THEY UNLOCK A DESTINATION'S CULTURE, FOOD AND SCENERY

COLLETTE'S SMALL-GROUP EXPLORATIONS TOURS bring travelers to corners of the world where large groups can't go. With a focus on diving deeper, engaging with local life and giving travelers a more holistic look at a destination, our tours are ideal for clients who want to slow down and experience more.

A LOCAL'S PERSPECTIVE ON CULTURE

When clients travel in Europe on an Explorations tour, they go beyond the guidebook and bring home more than a souvenir. Travelers expect to visit the must-see sites in any chosen destination, but by booking with Collette, they can also expect to connect with local life and culture.

When they embark on a journey to Spain, for example, clients will see the magnificent and historical Mezquita-Catedral de Cordoba, which began construction in 785 AD. Then, they will end their day on a family bull ranch, coming face to face with the incredible animals that live there and learning about day-to-day ranch life.

STORYTELLING THROUGH FOOD AND DRINK

When travelers think of essential destinations for culinary enthusiasts, Italy often comes to mind, and for good reason — an Aperol spritz on a seaside terrace, endless fresh pasta made by hand and cheese-tasting opportunities are not hard to come by here.

But when clients travel to Italy with Collette, they can try their hand at perfecting classic Italian recipes approved by nonnas all over the country, and sample wine on a family-owned vineyard in the rolling hills of Tuscany. These experiences will give them a fuller picture of Italy's culture. After all, an Italian dinner with friends can last up to three hours — there's no need to rush when the food is this good.

MAGNIFICENT LANDSCAPES AND UNENDING SKIES

Watching the northern lights dance overhead is a bucket-list experience for so many travelers, but the spectacular light show is elusive, so only the luckiest observers catch a glimpse. But clients can maximize their chances (and have a front-row seat for the show) by sleeping in glass igloos tucked deep in the Finnish forest. And that's an opportunity Collette offers, among others.

For travelers seeking warmer climates and ocean views, Portugal's Azores offer all that and more — from dolphin-watching off the coast to trekking lush, winding trails with incredible vistas all around. Clients can swim in volcanic pools and step on Sete Cidades caldera's highest point, immersing themselves in the best of the Azores' natural beauty.

Collette offers more than 30 small-group Explorations tours to Europe. Travel advisors can get their clients closer to culture on trips designed by in-destination experts who call these places home, promising an incomparable tour experience.

HAWAII ESSENTIAL THINGS TO KNOW

Information that is good for all Hawaii visitors to be in the know about...

Planning Your Hawaiian Vacation

Hawaii 101 - Get Started Here

So you're thinking about Hawaii and here you are at our website. Now what? If you're still on the fence about Hawaii, then hopefully we'll convince you along the way it's one of the most amazing places you could ever visit.

1.) Select Your Island(s) to Visit

Six Unique Islands - Which one is for you?

You've got several options here, so how do you go about choosing that perfect island for your own trip? In fact, why choose just one?

2.) Determining When to Visit

Selecting the Best Time of Year

Honestly, there isn't a 'bad time' to go to Hawaii. Visiting Hawaii is a dream come true for many visitors, and who can blame them? It's a remarkable, unique, & beautiful paradise.

3.) Choose your interests

Sights, Beaches, Trails, Activities, and more...

If you've decided on the island(s) your going to visit, then you're set to begin your planning. The next step is to consider your interests. One could spend years in Hawaii and never see everything, so carefully narrowing down your favorites is worth the time and effort now, ahead of time.

4.) Learn beyond the basics

Educate yourself on Hawaii's history, weather, our Safety tips, & more

OK, once you've nailed down a list of your favorite places you can get to the nitty-gritty of 'Beyond the Basics.' Some of this may seem irrelevant, but we highly encourage visitors to read as much as they can on the islands before visiting. Hawaii is like no other places in the United States, and quite honestly, is very much like visiting a foreign country.

5.) Packing your bags

What to pack & What NOT to pack...

Regardless of how much you've traveled in the past and where you've been, there is one good rule to follow when coming to Hawai'i, leave as much as you can at home! Seriously, bring only what you'll need during your stay and nothing more. Chances are a pair of shorts, and a nice Aloha shirt is all you'll need for even some fine dining. Leave the formal wear back home. And please don't bring your passport if you're a U.S. citizen (you'd be surprised how many folks do). A light jacket and a long pair of pants might also be helpful for those visits to higher elevations around the islands.

With the motto, 'less is more' in mind, here are a few other items to bring. Sunblock (the UV on Hawai'i is typically 14+ in the spring, summer, and fall), a backpack (for any hikes) and a water bottle, slippers (flip flops, shower shoes, zoris), mask, snorkel, and fins (or rent locally instead), two bathing suits (one to wear while the other dries) and a cover-up, camera and film (or digital cards), lightweight raincoat or poncho (it's tropical here), bug spray with DEET (for any forest hikes), flashlight (for just in case), hiking boots / hiking rods (even if you're not a hardcore hiker, it's not a bad idea to bring proper footwear for some trails), and most importantly a list of all your troubles to leave behind. Seriously, we enforce that last one!
